

CENTER FOR KOREA STUDIES

W HENRY M. JACKSON SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES | UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

SOUTH KOREA'S 20th PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION: The Future of the Nation

Sponsored by the Center for Korea Studies, University of Washington

MONDAY, MARCH 14, 2022, 3:00–4:30 P.M.

REGISTER AT: <https://jsis.washington.edu/korea/>

The Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies' Center for Korean Studies invites you to join us for a virtual forum discussing the results of South Korea's March 9, 2022 presidential election. Our panel of experts will address the issues surrounding the election, the leadership capacity of the new president, the domestic and international challenges Korea faces, and more.

MODERATOR

Professor Yong-Chool Ha,
Korea Foundation Professor of Korean
Social Science

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Please call 206-543-4873,
email uwcks@uw.edu, or visit
<http://jsis.washington.edu/korea>.

PANELISTS

Professor Uk Heo, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Scott Snyder, Council on Foreign Relations

Professor Seung-Jin Jang, Kookmin University

Professor Robert Pekkanen, University of Washington

Logistical arrangements prepared by Ian Oates, Interim Associate Director of the Center for Korea Studies.